Panelist Bios:

John Sheffield

CEO | Advanced Classroom Technologies

John has a passion for helping businesses grow. Joining as the 4th employee to an education services firm, he helped steady operations, raise capital, and acquire a competitor. In the process, he earned the responsibility of COO and Managing Partner and grew to manage a team of 65.

He joined Spur Acquisitions after receiving his MBA from UC Berkeley and is now seeking to acquire a well-run company and lead it in its next stage of growth. In July of 2021, John and Spur acquired Advanced Classroom Technologies. John currently serves as CEO and is a member of the Board of Directors. John is a proud Oregon native. He enjoys traveling, spending time with friends and family, skiing, golfing, and reading.

Lori Brown

CEO | PayNorthwest

I am proud to serve as the CEO of PayNorthwest and provide software and service that brings clarity and peace of mind to mid-size and growing businesses that see the smart use of technology as a means to becoming a better, more productive and modern employer.

I helped take the company from $500K in annual revenue in 2010 to $6.4M in 2017 while maintaining a 96% client retention rate year over year. My Core Values: Integrity, Hard Work, Agility, Aspiration Experience + Grit = Success

Nathan Bosseler

President & Co-Founder | CASTUS Corporation

Hello, I am Nathan Bosseler. I was born and raised in Sammamish WA. I have always had an extreme interest in business and video production so after my training at Bellevue College in TV production I decided to start my own video production company Impact Studio Pro in 2004. In 2010 we created a brand new company, a 'spin off' called CASTUS Corporation. Today, ISP no longer exists but we will always remember it for getting us started and moving us forward to develop what we now know today as CASTUS.

Over the past 12 years, CASTUS has grown from a small bedroom start-up to now a company with office space in Issaquah that takes pride in producing great solutions, gives back to our community and provides great careers. I can attribute growth to- 1, a quality product. 2, offering a great place to work. And 3, a proven, perfected process.
